

Driver Donovan Allison Reaches 2 Million Milestone

In the trucking industry, it's rare to hear of drivers who spend their entire careers driving for a single carrier. At Boyd Bros., however, we're proud to be a company where successful and lengthy careers are more common. We strive to be a company where drivers want to stay. Today, we wanted to highlight one specific driver, Donovan Allison, who's done exactly that. Donovan, who started working for us 21 years ago as a student driver, recently reached 2 million miles of safe driving.

"I remember when I started driving, I saw these other drivers who had been around for a long time who reached this milestone," Donovan says. "I remember thinking 'wow,' and wondering how they did it. Now here I am achieving the same thing. It's such a blessing."

Donovan has always wanted to be a trucker. He grew up in New York, but his location never provided him with the opportunity to do so. When he later moved to Georgia, Donovan knew it was the right time to pursue his dream. He signed up for driving school and hasn't stopped driving since. Driving a flatbed truck is not the easiest choice, but he enjoys the challenging and physical aspects of the job. It helps, he says, to have a company like Boyd to lean on.

"There are actually quite a large number of million mile drivers here. It says a lot about the company when there are many drivers with 10 years or more driving for Boyd," he adds. "I like the camaraderie here and the fact that I'm an individual, not a number."

When Donovan isn't on the road, he can usually be found at his home in Tucker, Ga., with his wife April and their two sons. He's on one of our dedicated routes, so he's home every other day or more.

"This job isn't for everyone. You need to stay professional and take it a day at a time," he adds. "Just stay focused and you'll achieve everything you want to. It's not an overnight thing, but you'll get there."

We're so grateful to Donovan for all his hard work and dedication to Boyd Bros. Congratulations on this incredible achievement!
